INTRODUCTION

This statistical publication provides basic statistics for the 27 anglophone school districts of the New Brunswick public school system, as depicted on the following map.

The tables at the beginning of the publication provide statistical information on enrollment, full-time equivalent (F.T.E) teachers and professional staff, number of schools, number of classes and high school course enrollments.

The larger section at the back of this document contains the lists of schools in the anglophone school districts. The schools in each district are listed in alphabetic order. Enrollment and F.T.E. teachers by language of instruction, as of September 30, 1989, are given for each school.

More detailed statistical information is available from the New Brunswick Department of Education, P. O. Box 6000, Fredericton, N.B., E3B 5H1; telephone (506) 453-3090.

A School Directory is also available. This Directory gives the name of the principal, the address and phone number of each school but does not contain statistical data.

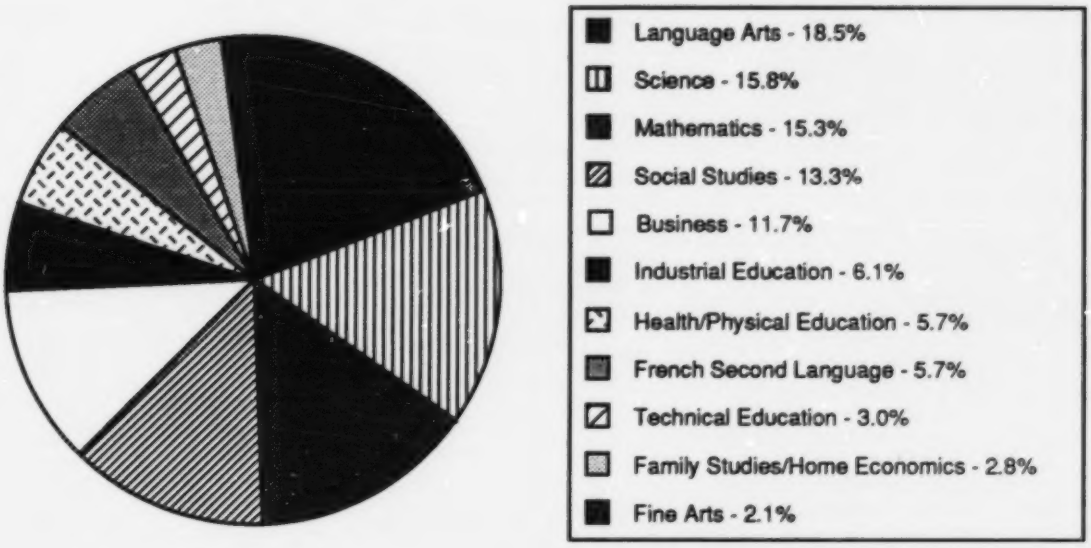
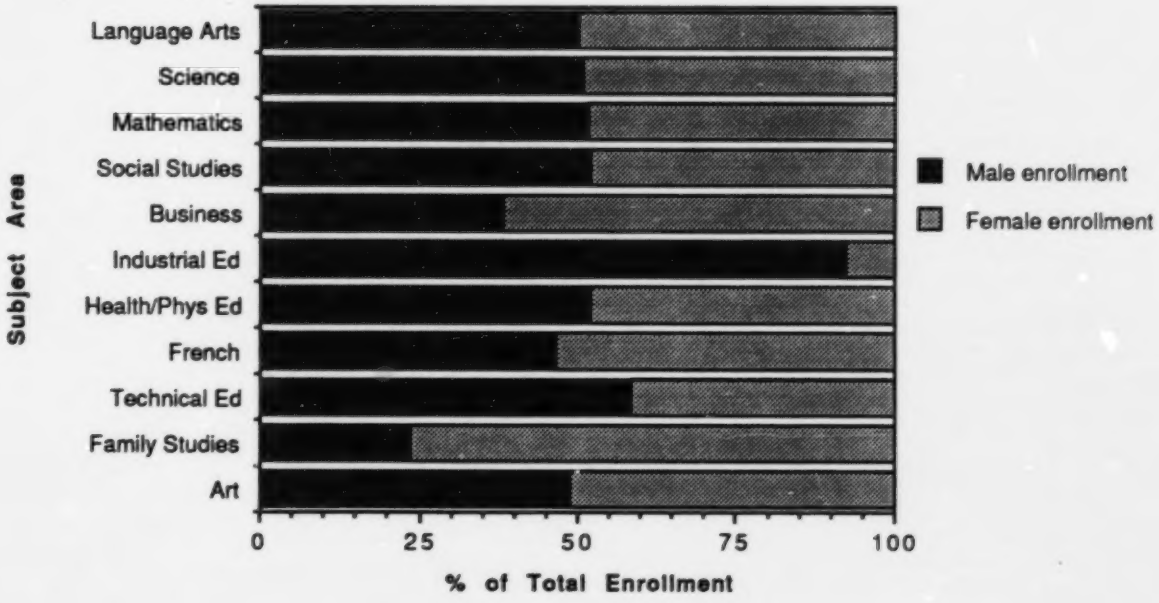
Distribution of High School Course Enrollments



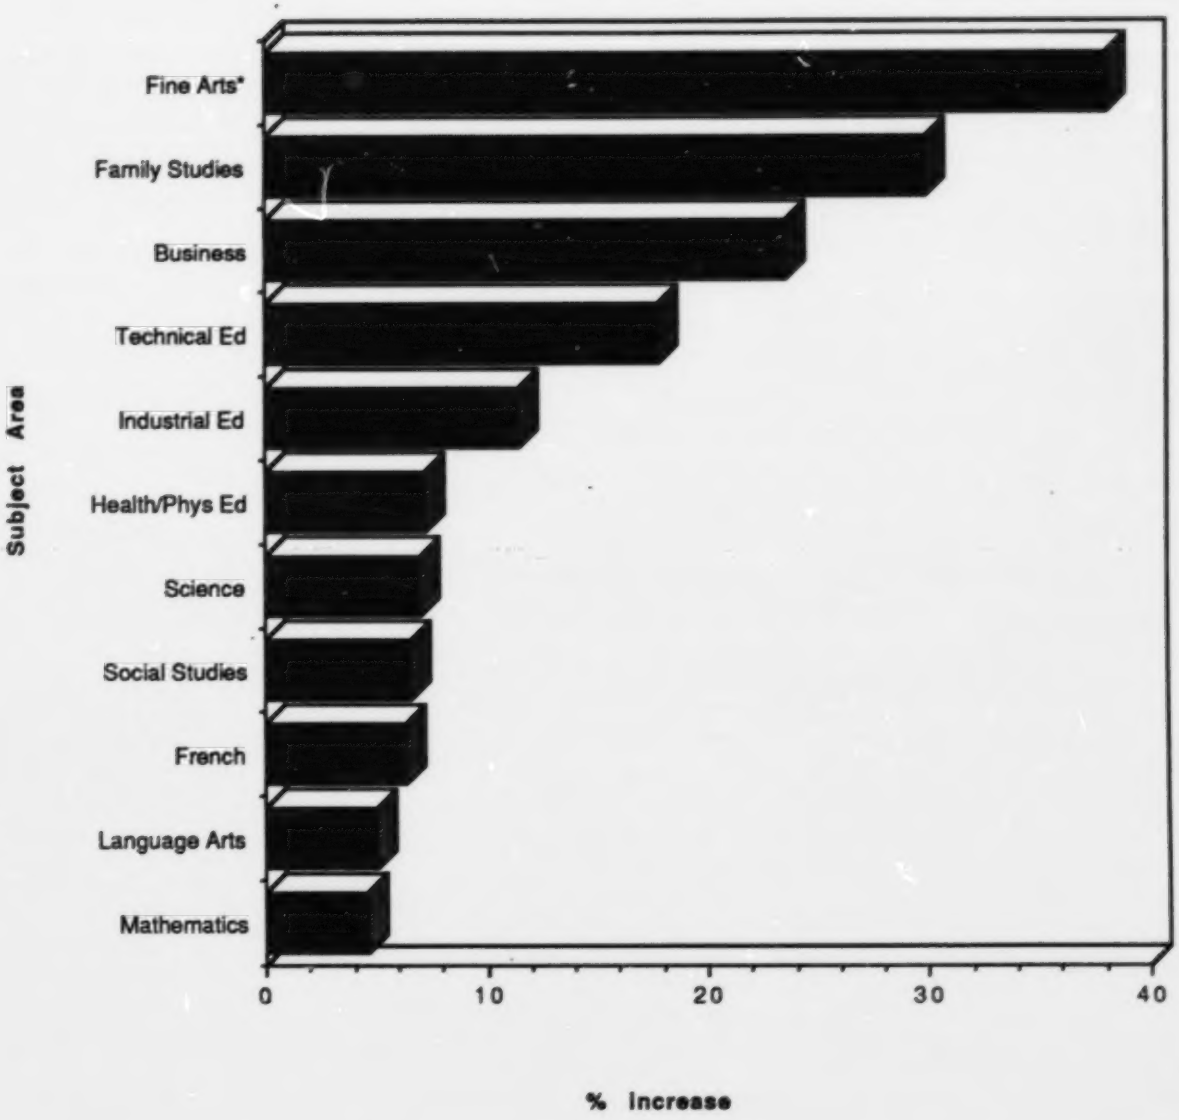
Percentage Breakdown of Course Enrollments by Sex



Note: The above statistics are based on course enrollment data supplied by the 27 anglophone school districts in September, 1989. The 23,969 senior high students were enrolled in an provincial average of 6.78 courses for a total of approximately 162,500 course enrollments. The figures in the above charts can be interpreted as in the following example: Approximately 18.5% of the 162,500 course enrollments were in Language Arts courses, and of those, 50% were male and 50% were female.

Increases in Course Enrollments

1989 over 1988



* Fine Arts includes art, music and theatre arts courses.
